

READING THE FUTURE

Watershed by Jane Abbott

The power by Naomi Alderman

All the birds in the sky by Charlie Jane Anders

The heart goes last by Margaret Atwood

The water knife by Paolo Bacigalupi

Fahrenheit 451 by Ray Bradbury

The island will sink by Briohny Doyle

On the edge of gone by Corinne Duyvis

Future home of the living god by Louise Erdrich

Extinction game by Gary Gibson

The transition by Luke Kennard

The Wolf Road by Beth Lewis

An excess male by Maggie Shen King

All the galaxies by Philip Miller

When the floods came by Clare Morrall

Infomocracy by Malka Older

The dead lands by Benjamin Percy

The book of M by Peng Shepherd

The chimes by Anna Smail

Tomorrow and tomorrow by Thomas Sweterlitsch

Find me by Laura Van Den Berg

Thirst by Benjamin Warner

Gold fame citrus by Claire Vaye Watkins

We hope you enjoy this selection of dystopian titles.

Not all titles will be available at your home branch library, but you can place a reserve on them to have them sent to your library. A reservation fee of $1 will be applied.

See the list on Pinterest
<http://www.pinterest.com/rrlibrary/reading-the-future/>